

Prof. Dr. Dr. h. c. Giovanni Stanghellini, University of Chieti, Italy

Giovanni Stanghellini, MD and Dr. phil. honoris causa, psychiatrist, is professor of Dynamic Psychology and Psychopathology at “G. d’Annunzio” University (Chieti, Italy) and Profesor Adjuncto “D. Portales” University (Santiago, Chile). He chairs the European Psychiatric Association (EPA) Section on Philosophy and Psychiatry, the International Network for Philosophy and Psychiatry (with K.W.M. Fulford and J.Z. Sadler) and the Scuola di Psicoterapia Fenomenologico-Dinamica (Florence, Italy). Among his books in English: Nature and Narrative (co-edited with K.W.M. Fulford, K. Morris and J.Z. Sadler, Oxford University Press 2003), Disembodied Spirits and Deanimated Bodies. The Psychopathology of Common Sense (OUP 2004), Emotions and Personhood (with R. Rosfort, OUP 2013), One Hundred Years of Karl Jaspers’ General Psychopathology (co-edited with T. Fuchs, OUP 2013), Oxford Handbook of Philosophy and Psychiatry (co-edited with K.W.M. Fulford et al., OUP 2013), The Therapeutic Interview in Mental Health. A Values-Based and Person-Centered Approach (with M. Mancini, Cambridge University Press, 2017), Oxford Handbook of Phenomenological Psychopathology (co-edited with M.R. Broome et al., OUP 2019), International Perspectives in Values-Based Mental Health Practice. Case Studies and Commentaries (co-edited with D. Stoyanov, K.W.M. Fulford, et al., Springer, 2020) and Time and Body (co-edited with C. Tewes, Cambridge University Press, 2020).